

Time to cash in and earn a $750 deductible credit for making the right call for Maternity Management

Don't miss out on your chance to receive a $750 deductible credit.

It's your reward for signing up for the free maternity management program. Moms-to-be who enroll during their first or second trimester will qualify for the incentive. When you join, you will receive one-on-one phone calls from a nurse coach and free educational materials.

You must complete the assessment calls, including a final assessment, along with the maternity management satisfaction survey after delivery. Once the maternity management survey has been returned, the $750 incentive reward will be available to offset any future claims applied to your family's deductible amount.
